

JavaScript DOM Project Tasks

- Create a function to remove the section containing your personal movie database. This function should check if the movies array is empty, then it removes or hides the section. It should be called after a movie has been added
- Create a function which will render the movies added as a list and insert them into the movie-list ul tag. The CSS rules to should guide you on the class names to give the various HTML elements 😊
- This function should be called whenever a new movie is added
